“I am the Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.” These words of our Lord refer to the Paschal Mystery which we celebrate at Easter. It is most appropriate then that this Fourth Sunday of Easter be celebrated as Good Shepherd Sunday.

We spend our life taking care of someone or being cared for by someone. As children, we are cared for by our parents, grandparents, and the adults in our family. As adults we care for our own children, while some of us may also be caring for our parents. To care for someone else is not just a nice sentiment or something we do out of pure pleasure. Sometimes it brings joy, but other times, it can be painful, tiresome, and entail sacrifice.

There isn't a mother who is unable to speak about a night—or the many nights—spent taking care of a child. There isn't a father or mother that doesn't lay awake at night thinking about how they will provide an education for their children or how they will solve those unexpected events, when they barely have enough money to cover their daily needs. Yet they manage to do it, sometimes with worry, anguish and extreme sacrifices, but always with plenty of love. It's not that there is no pleasure in this, since it is done, not out of a sense of obligation or imposition, but out of a genuine desire that the lives of those we love will be better than even our own.

This is what love is all about even if we may sometimes try to disguise it with something much more sentimental, tender and simple. The Good Shepherd gave his life for his flock and this is the love we learn to express to one another in our family, at work, and among our closest relationships.

We may even be asked to extend that same kind of love to those we aren't close to. But why should we be asked to love others who are not part of our inner circle or close to us? Simply because it is what we are told in the second reading: we are the children of God. And if we are children of God, then we are brothers and sisters. To be good shepherds, as Jesus has been and continues to be for us, is more than just demonstrating a caring sentiment: it is a calling; it is our vocation as human beings and Christians.

In what ways am I a good shepherd to those closest to me and to the members of my family? Am I a good shepherd to those outside my family, my co-workers, classmates, and the people in my community? And what does it mean for me to be a good shepherd to others who are not in my immediate circle? What services do I feel God is calling me to do? (from Nuestra Parroquia)

Shepherd of all, by laying down your life for your flock you reveal your love for all.

Lead us from the place of death to the place of abundant life,

that guided by your care for us,

we may rightly offer our lives in love for you and our neighbors. Amen.

El Buen Pastor da la Vida por las Ovejas

Nos pasamos la vida cuidando de alguien, siendo cuidados. Como niños, sentimos los cuidados de nuestros padres y abuelos y los adultos de la familia. Luego quizá tuvimos que cuidar a nuestros propios hijos y, algunos de nosotros, ya estamos cuidando de nuestros padres también. El cuidar no es un simplemente un sentimiento bonito o algo que se hace por puro placer. A veces causa placer; pero otras veces, es penoso, cansado, y sacrificado.

No habrá madre que no sepa contar alguna noche—innumerables noches—que haya pasado en vela cuidando de un hijo. No habrá padre o madre que no se desvele pensando en cómo van a arreglarse para darle una educación a sus hijos, cómo van a solucionar imprevistos cuando no tienen dinero apenas para lo necesario. Pero lo hacen, a veces con preocupación y angustia y con mucha entrega de sí mismo, pero con mucho amor. No es que no haya placer en eso, porque se hace no por una obligación o imposición, sino por el puro deseo de que la vida de los que amamos sea mejor, incluso mejor que la propia.

Así es el amor, aunque a veces lo disfracemos de algo mucho más sentimental, tierno y fácil. El Buen Pastor da la vida por las ovejas y es ese tipo de amor el que aprendemos a extendernos unos a los otros en la familia, en el hogar, en el trabajo, y entre nuestras relaciones más cercanas.

Incluso a veces se nos pedirá un esfuerzo más para ir a extender ese mismo amor a otros más lejanos. Y ? Por qué se nos iba a pedir que amáramos a otros que no están en el círculo más cercano a nosotros? Simplemente por lo que se nos dice en la segunda lectura: somos hijos de Dios. Y si somos todos hijos de Dios, entonces todos somos hermanos unos de otros. Ser buenos pastores, como Jesús ha sido y es buen pastor para nosotros, es más que un sentimiento piadoso: es una llamada; es nuestra vocación como seres humanos y como cristianos.

? De qué maneras soy buen pastor para las personas cercanas, para los miembros de mi familia?
? Soy también buen pastor para los de fuera, mis compañeros de trabajo o escuela, las personas de la comunidad? ? Y qué significaría para mi ser buen pastor de otros, más lejanos del círculo inmediato? ? A qué servicios siento que me llama Dios?
(de Nuestra Parroquia)

Amadísimo y generoso Dios,
Eres Tú quien nos llama por nuestro nombre y nos pides que te sigamos.

Ayúdanos a crecer en el amor y en el servicio a nuestra Iglesia.

Danos el entusiasmo y la energía de tu Espíritu para preparar su futuro.

Danos líderes llenos de fe que abracen la misión de Cristo en amor y en justicia.

Bendice la Iglesia de Corpus Christi con líderes de nuestras familias que dediquen sus vidas al servicio de su pueblo como sacerdotes, religiosos, diáconos y ministros laicos.

Inspíranos a conocerte mejor y abre nuestros corazones para oír tu llamada.
Amén.
