PAPAL VISIT | MYANMAR | 27-30 NOVEMBER 2017

Pope eager to meet Catholic, interreligious leaders in Bangladesh

Vatican City, Nov 21, 2017 / 06:33 am (CNA/EWTN News).- On Tuesday Pope Francis sent a video greeting to the people of Bangladesh ahead of his Nov. 30-Dec. 2 visit to the country, saying he is looking forward to meeting everyone, especially Catholics and other religious leaders, and to bringing the Gospel of Jesus Christ. "I want to meet the entire people," he said. "In a special way, I cannot wait to meet the religious leaders in Ramna (Park)." Located in the central part of the capital city Dhaka, Ramna Park has a lake and trees and is considered one of the most beautiful areas of the city.

In the video, published Nov. 21, he also emphasized his wish to reaffirm the Catholic community of Bangladesh in "its faith and in its testimony of the Gospel, which teaches the dignity of every man and woman, and calls us to open our hearts to others, especially the poor and needy." Francis also said that in his visit he comes as a "minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, to proclaim his message of reconciliation, forgiveness, and peace." This is a time when we all, both believers and non-believers, are called to promote understanding and respect, and support each other as part of "one human family," he said. The Pope's visit is the second leg of an apostolic trip to the countries of Burma – also known as Myanmar – and Bangladesh from Nov. 27 to Dec. 2.

He will arrive in Dhaka, the capital city of Bangladesh, from Burma on Nov. 30 in the afternoon. There will be a formal welcoming ceremony and then he will make a visit to the National Martyr's Memorial in Savar, about 22 miles north-west of the capital. The National Martyr's Memorial in Savar is the national monument of Bangladesh. It stands in memory of all those who gave their lives in the Bangladesh Liberation War of 1971, which brought independence and separated Bangladesh from Pakistan.

He will also visit the Bangabandhu Memorial Museum, which honors the former Father of the Nation, Bangabandhu Mujibur Rahman, who was assassinated alongside his family in August 1975. From there he will meet with the President of Bangladesh, Abdul Hamid. Afterward he will deliver a speech in a meeting with governmental authorities, leaders of the civil society and with the diplomatic corps. On Dec. 1, Francis will celebrate Mass and a priestly ordination at Suhrawardy Udyan Park. In the afternoon he will visit the Prime Minister, Sheikh Hasina and the cathedral.

Later he will give speeches in meetings with the bishops of Bangladesh and with interreligious leaders and an ecumenical group for peace. In the morning on Dec. 2 he will make a private visit to the Mother Teresa House in the Tejgaon district of Dhaka. Afterward he will meet and address priests, religious, consecrated, seminarians and novices in the Church of the Holy Rosary, which was built in the late 1600s and is the oldest church building still-standing in Dhaka. The Pope will visit the church and the parish cemetery during his visit. Francis' final encounter of the trip will be with youth at the Notre Dame College of Dhaka, where he will deliver a speech before leaving for the airport and the official leaving ceremony before departing for Rome. He is expected to land back in Rome at about 11p.m. local time.

VIAJE APOSTÓLICO DE SU SANTIDAD EL PAPA FRANCISCO

A MYANMAR Y BANGLADÉS

26 DE NOVIEMBRE - 2 DE DICIEMBRE DE 2017

La visita responde a la invitación de los jefes de Estado y los obispos de ambos países del sudeste asiático, e incluirá las ciudades de Yangon y Nay Pyi Taw, y Dhaka. Myanmar: Unos 700.000 católicos viven en Birmania, de sus 51 millones y medio de habitantes, con 16 obispos, más de 700 sacerdotes y 2.200 religiosos. Uno de los objetivos del Pontífice en Myanmar es la mejora de la situación de alrededor de un millón de musulmanes de la etnia rohinyá, algo que no agrada a algunos sectores budistas radicales que en los últimos años han ejercido violencia sectaria y protestas contra los rohinyá y otros musulmanes.

Bangladesh: Con 160 millones de habitantes en su mayoría musulmanes, Bangladesh cuenta con una comunidad cristiana que no representa más del 0,5% de la población (350.000 fieles), recordaba Vatican Insider el pasado mes de octubre cuando se anunció el posible viaje del Papa al país. En más de 50 años, Bangladesh no ha superado verdaderamente las heridas que heredó de la guerra de Independencia. Hoy, después de décadas de penetración lenta en las madrasas construidas con financiamiento de los wahabitas, tiene que afrontar a grupos yihadistas locales que querrían convertirse en el rostro del Estado Islámico en el país (basta recordar la masacre de julio de 2016 en la capital, Dhaka, o el atentado contra el padre Piero Parolari, en noviembre de 2015).

Bangladesh es también una enorme fábrica textil barata para muchas cadenas comerciales de occidente, en la que, a menudo, los trabajadores viven en condiciones inaceptables (como demostró claramente la tragedia en el Rana Plaza) Y también es uno de los países que, por su morfología, está viviendo duramente las consecuencias del cambio climático. Por ello es tan significativa la atención de papa Francisco y su intención de visitar el país, a treinta años del único viaje que hizo Juan Pablo II en 1986. En cambio, el Vaticano no ha podido llegar a acuerdos con el gobierno indio y de momento no es posible el esperado viaje del Papa a la India.
